

The Colorado River at the bottom of the hike

The cold water felt so good at this point

This was taken a few minutes before reaching the top once more