Rockaway Beach Emergency Preparedness

Rockaway Beach City Hall

276 S Hwy 101

Rockaway Beach, OR 97136

06:00 PM - 07:00 PM PST

We have all witnessed the serenity interrupted by violent storms, high winds, flooding, slides, fallen trees and power lines.

Not to mention a Tornado or the unimaginable Tsunami.

In many of these events, resources assisting will be very limited.

Power can be cut off for hours, days, and perhaps weeks.

We cannot control the elements, but we can control our preparation and our response.

We can prepare ourselves to assist our family first and then be an aid to neighbors in need of support

We meet on the 1st Wednesday of each month at 6 pm. Meeting place: City Hall. All are welcome.

Oregon King Tides

Oregon Coast

12:00 AM - 11:45 PM PST

Rockaway Community Education, (503)355-8108

RCE@RockawayBeach.net

King Tides are starting again! We are urging everyone to stay off the jetties, stay off the beaches (even if it looks fun), and stay away from low-lying areas. Observe storms, waves, and high tides from a safe distance. Also, a friendly reminder (although most local residents are aware): Never turn your back to the ocean! Be aware of the water at all times, regardless of age, stature, and experience. Sneaker waves can happen at any time.

We have had some good rain over the past month (with more on the way in the coming weeks) and a fairly significant swell on the ocean. These combinations are a recipe for some very bad conditions should you find yourself in the wrong place. Check the tide information and weather conditions anytime you plan to visit the beach. It doesn't take much water to move those heavy, large logs and trees on the beach. Please stay away from them!

There's always a possibility of flooding during these conditions.
