A Proven Path to Recruiting and Hiring Top Talent with Guest Speaker, Sally Brause with PathShare HR Services

Your business makes a positive impact in the communities you serve, so it's time to start using that to your advantage to get the best and brightest employees that won't settle for the status quo. During this session, Sally Brause will show you how to identify your company's unique purpose – or 'why' - to attract top talent, plus guide you through a proven path to hiring success. This seminar is ideal for any leader responsible for hiring top talent.

What to know NOW to make social media work for your business

Mich Hancock with 100th Monkey Media

The changes made to social media platforms can be overwhelming - they happen often! Mich provides a sensible approach on how to navigate the ever-changing world of social media, as well as how to best show up on the various social media platforms, effectively advertise and generate leads to take your business up to the next level.
